Teaching and Learning Methods / Skills and expectations

Students are taught:

Listening, speaking, reading and writing skills to enable them to communicate effectively and confidently on a variety of issues.

Essay writing skills, including how to give considered and informed responses to open questions.

Contextualised grammar and vocabulary, which are practised, reinforced and tested in each of the 4 skills in each topic and sub-topic area.

The importance of communication, including good pronunciation, intonation and clarity of meaning.

It is important that students are aware of the world around them by regularly reading a quality newspaper and/or news website in their own language as well as in Spanish.

Students are expected and encouraged to use vocabulary books and grammar books and they should keep their work in a well-organised folder. The folder will include all assessed work which will include written feed-back and opportunity for the students to reflect on their learning and to evidence this.

Regular learning of vocabulary and wider reading and listening of Spanish are essential to ensure progress.

Costs

All students are provided with a text book, vocabulary and grammar book. We would recommend that each student purchase their own copy which we will provide details of.

Transferable skills

Higher education institutions and employers have a need for students to develop a range of transferable skills to enable them to respond confidently to the demands of undergraduate study and the world of work.

The transferable skills practised at A Level Spanish include:

Cognitive skills: Non-routine problem solving; Systems thinking; Critical thinking; ICT literacy

Interpersonal skills: Communication; Relationship-building skills; Collaborative Problem-solving

Intrapersonal skills: Adaptability; Self-management and Self-development

Previous A Level Spanish students at Fullbrook have found that their Spanish has given them an edge on those who do not have an A Level in a Modern Foreign Language. Students have gone on to University to study Law, Medical Sciences, Business, Marketing and Spanish. Others have found employment at the airports and in sport. Spanish has strong cross-curricular links with many other subjects and is highly valued by Universities and future employers. University courses such as Medicine and Engineering favour students who have studied a language as it shows an ability to communicate and provides the opportunity to study/work abroad and/or to work for an International company at home or abroad.

Studying a language improves understanding of your own language and develops understanding and appreciation of other cultures.

Entry Requirements Grade 6 or above at GCSE.
