

Welcome to
GCSE PE Engaged Learners Evening

1

Why are the selected students considered passive learners in your specific subject?

Firstly this has nothing to do with Ability and Behaviour!

Slow to engage

Happy with OK

Rarely ask for help

Passive Learner

Low home activity

When given tasks it takes too long to become focused on the task and to integrate with the groups.

Don't look to challenge knowledge or fill in gaps, activities done to bare minimum.

When stuck student doesn't ask others for help or teacher, even though I remind them of different ways to gain knowledge.

Allow others to do the majority of the work when in group activities, worried about getting it wrong. Everyone makes mistakes.

Effort levels for homework revision is/seems to be minimal, attitude to tests needs to change.

2

What can the student do to improve their behaviour for learning within your specific subject?

Slow to engage

Make sure when an activity has started you have listened to the instructions and you know what to do.

Happy with work

Don't be happy with enough, look for the next challenge, can you add more to the work you have already done?

Rarely asks for help

Ask questions, we don't expect you to know everything, that's why you are in classroom and at school.

Passive learner

You need to understand the work, talk to people in your group, you all know each other. Take the opportunity in group tasks to pick other students brains for the answer. Again no harm in asking.

Low home activity

Be organised, plan when to revise, make sure you have allocated time to do work at home.

Pick a revision style to suite you e.g. posters/ mind maps.

3

What can be done at home and around school to support the behaviour for learning within your specific subject?

Look at your emails: this year I will be emailing power-points, speciation's and more, so please keep looking at your emails.

Find Me: if you need more help come and find me after school, I am here most days. Email me to arrange a meeting so we can discuss anything you are worried about.

Check Show My Homework: If revision tasks are given in class for a test make sure you look early enough to prepare for it. Organisation can be the saving grace.

Don't Suffer in Silence: All students will help you, there are 22 others in the group who are willing to help we are a team after all. I am one of 10 PE teachers, look for us and ask us our knowledge is useful.

Be independent: you are older and bolder now. look to do, without external motivation.
